

more books by local authors...

Gwen Cready will discuss romance writing and her new book—Seducing Mr. Darcy—at Borders Books September 20.

Atlanta Drive resident Gwen Cready's second romance novel, Seducing Mr. Darcy, is in bookstores now. The story centers on Flip Allison, an ornithologist at the Pittsburgh Aviary who, by way of a therapeutic massage that promises an opportunity to "Imagine Yourself in Your Favorite Book," finds herself launched not just into Pride and Prejudice, but also right into the arms of Darcy himself. You can read an excerpt at www.cready.com. Seducing Mr. Darcy is a Doubleday Book Club selection and an Alternate Main Selection in the Rhapsody Book Club. On September 20, from 2 to 3:30 P.M., Cready will participate in the romance author panel with Barbara Sheridan, Gaelyn Foley and Holley Jacobs at Borders in Norman Centre.